The Mission Continues 2012 Gala

Express Scripts proudly joined nearly 400 supporters, staff and Fellows of The Mission Continues at the 3rd Annual Veterans Day Gala held in St. Louis on November 12th.

The Mission Continues empowers post-9/11 veterans by providing them the opportunity to serve at home as Fellows. These Fellows lead service projects within their communities by working with local nonprofit organizations, bringing veterans and civilians together. This opportunity creates a positive transition for veterans from military to civilian life while strengthening the community.

“This generation of veterans is wired to serve, and will lead our nation with unparalleled leadership,” says Admiral Michael Mullen, U.S. Navy (Retired). “You may know a lot about The Mission Continues, or this may be your first exposure, but this is a model. It is a model that supports transitions and it’s a model that supports continued service.”

Express Scripts attendees included: Lisa Cannone, senior director, Compliance, Jim Zaitz, senior director, Human Resources, Mike Strahan, assistant, General Counsel and Kathy Reardon, vice president & associate, General Counsel. The Mission Continues recognized several of their supporters during the gala and reflected on the great impact that over 300 Fellows have had on their communities in 2012.
